WHAT IS A "PACIFIST"?

That depends on the point of view. There are pacifists and pacifists. Some oppose all fighting some of the time; others condemn any fighting all of the time; while there are those who so objugate all fighting all of the time that they themselves become, first, obstructors, next, aggressors, and, finally, real fighters from sheer reaction.

Such make splendid citizens when they dedicate their pugnacious powers to some purpose constructive. Perhaps they oppose anybody's fighting on the firing line in Europe. Possibly they are "fermest the government" municipal, and refuse to vote even for fighting fire in Glendale, except with our own little fire engine, which is authoritatively said to be either a toy or a terror, according to the very variable water pressure.

But this is a free country, and, to quote Marc Antony, "They are all honorable men"—or women. Recently two well known "perfectly good gentlemen" seriously said:

"We own no property in Glendale that is not fully insured. So we have no interest in the fire protection bonds, and do not intend to vote either for or against them."

They might well have added: "Are we our neighbor's keepers?" "Are we responsible if his house, his heirlooms burn, and his baby is roasted in the fire?"

"Not at all. We have neither home nor baby of our own, and the Lord helps those who help themselves."

Now those very people are noted for their many kindly acts to neighbors and others with less claim upon them.

Yet their angle of vision on the fire protection bond election does seem a bit slanted in the wrong direction, does it not? Is it from pure thoughtlessness or from actual unconcern as to what happens to others, so there be no loss to themselves?

Verily the motive of the apathetic is difficult to fathom.

PARLIAMENTARY SECTION AT WORK

Fourteen ladies signified their desire to study parliamentary law by meeting with Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, curator of the parliamentary usage section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, at the Masonic Temple October 23, at 1:30. An unusually interesting course has been mapped out for this class, a special feature of which will be parliamentary drills with chart outlines. The section will meet again November 11 at the same hour and place, when it is hoped that a larger number will be in attendance. "If you can not come regularly, come occasionally," is the mandate of the curator.

ELKS PROHIBIT LIQUOR

The announcement was made from the platform of the Sunday Tabernacle Wednesday evening that the Elks' Club at Pasadena had voted to discontinue serving any intoxicating liquor at the club after November 1. The announcement was greeted with applause and cheers for the Elks.

Americanism is the new word for patriotism since the world war began. The word has force and is being used more generally every day.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA TO TRAIN MEN FOR SKILLED FARM WORKERS

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—The University of California will try to solve California's problem of providing skilled labor for the farm. Announcement was made today that a course to train men now unacquainted with farm work, as skilled milkers, teamsters and irrigators. The course will be given at the university farm school at Davis, where those who attend will be under the direction of the ranch foreman and live with the ranch hands, and the course will be entirely free—no tuition, no board and no lodging to pay.

MODESTO, Oct. 25.—Years ago A. B. Humphrey, who owns a ranch in the Escalante district, brought to his place one grapevine of the Lady Finger variety. This week he shipped four carloads of Lady Finger grapes to the Eastern market, where they command the highest prices. He has 100 acres of vineyard in this variety, all propagated from the one original vine. It is claimed Humphrey is the only rancher in the West raising Lady Finger grapes.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 25.—Alameda milk dealers are joining with their customers in fighting a raise in milk prices. To that end they have announced that, beginning November 1, there will be but one delivery made daily. They claim that such a step is the only method under which it will be possible for them to avoid boosting prices, and they add that it is to their interests as well as to the interest of their customers, to keep the prices down to at least the present level.

OAKLAND, Oct. 25.—Before long Oakland hopes to have an aeroplane factory—a big one, working on unique lines, unlike any other plant of its kind. The proposition is being considered by the army aviation service. Oakland's plan is to utilize "waste energy" of industrial plants in building aeroplane parts. Every factory would put in any spare time in any department in turning out the parts it is suited to build. These parts would be forwarded to the central aeroplane factory located in Oakland, and there assembled into flying machines to strike terror into the hearts of the Germans and help win the war for Uncle Sam.

HALLOWEEN PARTY TO SWELL RED CROSS FUND

Mrs. C. W. Bachman, one of Glendale's most hospitable hostesses, is to give a charming Halloween dance at her home, 303 West Ninth street, Saturday evening of this week. The house will accommodate 100 or more, and there is plenty of room for an overflow meeting in the spacious grounds should the attendance tax its capacity. It is planned to have refreshments of cider, pumpkin pie, coffee and perhaps doughnuts, served from pretty booths on the lawn. Lanterns will be strung about the place to give a festive air, and other Halloween decorations, including goblins, ghosts and black cats, will be made use of. The affair will be informal and in the nature of an old fashioned barn dance, and everybody will be welcome. There will be some good singing during the evening, and no doubt a recitation or two by distinguished artists, as Dr. and Mrs. Bachman have a large acquaintance with professional people. The benefit is for the "good cause," and every one interested in the Red Cross is of the right sort. An admission of 50 cents a couple or 25 cents each will be charged at the gate.

PUMPKINS WANTED

The Halloween party to be given for the benefit of the Red Cross at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Bachmann, West Ninth street, on Saturday evening next, is to be a splendid affair. Professional entertainers have been secured from outside, and extensive plans are about completed for a unique and pleasurable occasion.

Since it is desired to give the dance an old-time country flavor, those who plan to come are asked to wear their "farm clothes" and to be ready to consume cider, doughnuts and pie. The Vuchalpa Apple Growers' Association generously sent five gallons of its 1917 cider, and it is scrumptious. A dozen pumpkins are wanted by Friday. Can you give one or more for the Red Cross? They may be left at the Chamber of Commerce and will be thankfully appreciated.

Save Saturday evening for this affair—8 p. m., at 303 West Ninth street, Glendale.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday. Westerly winds.

PEOPLE OF U. S., MAXIMUM WILL BE REACHED

BIG BATTLE ON ITALIAN FRONT

AUSTRO-GERMANS ON THE OFFENSIVE ON THE BAIN-ZIZZA FRONT WITH TWENTY FRESH DIVISIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 25.—One of the decisive battles of the war is apparently raging on the Bainzizza plateau where the Austrians with twenty fresh divisions containing many German contingents are on the offensive. The Italians are prepared to hold the position at all costs, Rome cables received here today declare. An Italian official declaration is to the effect that the Austro-Germans are prepared to sacrifice thousands of men to press the Italians back for the sake of the morale of the people at home.

EPIDEMICS OF DISEASE SWEEP GERMANY

LETTERS TAKEN FROM GERMAN PRISONERS INDICATE THAT CONDITIONS ARE SERIOUS

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES AFIELD, October 25.—Thousands of letters taken from German prisoners describe the ravages of dysentery, cholera and typhus throughout Germany. Some idea not only of the widespread nature of the epidemic but its effect on the populace may be gained from the fact that over half of the letters referred to the spread of dysentery from the lack of proper and sufficient food.

NEW YORK, October 25.—Experts estimate the copper wires and lead protected cables used in transmitting electrical current under the streets of New York City at thirty millions pounds of copper and four million pounds of lead worth about $4,800,000.

PATRIOTISM PREVAILS

DR. FRANCIS STIRS UP PATRIOTISM IN GLENDALE AND DENOUNCES GERMANY

Never in the history of Glendale has there been a mass meeting held in which the people exhibited greater patriotism than at the one held in the auditorium of the high school Wednesday evening. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, with Rev. T. F. McCrea, vice president of the chapter, in the chair.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, who is at present giving his time to Y. M. C. A. work in the cantonments. Dr. Francis is truly an American patriot, and ever since the Germans so cruelly abused the Belgians at the beginning of the present war this gentleman has had no use for official Germany. He very briefly and clearly described the cause of the war. He pointed out that the German empire had been devoting its energies to building up a strong government, and did not reach out to gain foreign territory. While Germany was thus engaged in building her own country, Great Britain and France were gaining possessions in other countries that added greatly to their wealth. The time came when official Germany recognized that their people were confined to the limits of a small territory compared with other countries. There remained no territory for Germany to annex; everything had been taken up by other countries, so she determined upon a plan of conquest by might. With this in view, militarism was advocated and built up to the highest standard in the imperial government.

When, in June, 1914, Serbia, because of the recklessness of one of her citizens, came into bad repute with Austria, and Austria gave the Serbian government only 48 hours in which to satisfactorily answer ten questions or war would be declared immediately, Germany stood ready to back Austria, and in spite of all the friendly counsel from Great Britain and France, Germany would not refrain from exhibiting her military strength. The speaker declared that from that time until the present, all indications have been that Germany had laid deep seated plans to eventually rule the world.

Dr. Francis urged that the American people, especially those in the West, awake to the condition of things and put forth every effort possible to assist in winning the war. He reminded his audience that war conditions in the world are terrible, and the like has never been in the past, and he hopes that when it is finally settled there will never be a similar occurrence. He said the Germans have been taught that war is right, and must be engaged in to maintain a strong people, and that there may be permanent peace restored in the world this spirit of militarism must be overcome. Dr. Francis warned his hearers of the lack of patriotism displayed in Los Angeles and other Southern California cities. He said the people will not wake up to the importance of this war until casualties begin to take place and caskets containing the bodies of our best young men are sent back for burial. The speaker at times grew very eloquent and sounded the alarm, advising every American to be up and doing, giving all aid possible to those who are at the front to fight our battles.

At the opening of the meeting the High School Orchestra, under the leadership of their instructor, Mrs. Dora Gibson, rendered several patriotic selections. Dr. Henry R. Harrower gave a brief but emphatic talk, urging citizens of Glendale to vote for the fire bonds at the election October 30. A Mr. Raynor of Los Angeles followed Dr. Francis in a forceful talk, showing the need of buying the Liberty bonds, that money may be furnished to equip and feed the American soldiers.

PATRIOTISM OF BANKS

The banks of Glendale, as well as other banks throughout the United States, are showing a very patriotic spirit in encouraging the sale of Liberty bonds. In many instances the withdrawal of money from banks to invest in bonds is against the direct earnings of these institutions, but bankers are sufficiently in touch with the finances of the government to recognize the importance of the war loan, and it is with the best intentions they promote the sale of bonds. The Glendale banks will remain open every evening this week to accommodate persons who would wish to apply for the purchase of Liberty bonds.

Packer, chairman; Mrs. Harry Duffield and Mrs. J. W. Usliton. Headquarters and furnishings—Mrs. F. W. Pigg.

Mr. Aykroid has kindly given the use of one of his new storerooms at 1017 West Broadway for this work, and Mr. Ezra Parker has loaned furniture to make it comfortable. The Home Telephone Company has installed a phone for our use. Los Angeles county is to raise $50,000 within a very short time, which will be used to remember each boy who has gone into the service of his country from this county. Let us raise our portion of this fund to supply each boy from our locality with a Yuletide remembrance. One dollar puts you on the honor list and $2 buys a gift box. A nickel will help. Just what this box will contain will be printed later. The time in which to raise the fund is brief. Everything must be in by November 15. Some boxes must be sent by November 1 to our boys farthest away.

CHAPTER L. P. E. O., MEETING

The regular meeting of Chapter L of P. E. O. was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mabel McFadden, on Seventh street. After a short business session a program devoted to the Red Cross was given. Mrs. Ann Bartlett, Mrs. May Chase and Mrs. Josephine Farnham each read a paper. The history of the Red Cross from its earliest beginning to the present time, including the methods of management and future plans, together with much other information of interest concerning this great organization, were very ably and interestingly presented. Mrs. Bartlett then talked on the work of the local Red Cross, in which she gave accurate data pertaining to money spent, materials, number of garments finished, etc. Her information was keenly interesting. The next meeting will be an all-day meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hunchberger, 344 Central avenue.

PICNIC AT DEAD MAN'S ISLAND

There is a plan on foot for a big picnic on the beach at Dead Man's Island, to be held on Sunday, October 28. Every one is invited to go and to take extra lunch sufficient for at least two soldier boys. A government boat will be running from the Fifth street landing at San Pedro, and will take every one free of charge to the landing at the barracks. It is hoped that every one of the 115 boys will be invited to join the picnic. That they are looking forward to the occasion is evident from a letter received by Mrs. Ben H. Nichols from Corporal Edwards, one of our Glendale boys. He says:

"All the boys know of the plan and will arrange to have their friends come if possible. Thanking you for your thoughtfulness and waiting patiently for Sunday, as ever, in service, CLARENCE EDWARDS."

Mrs. Nichols is ready to furnish any further particulars of the plan, and suggests that an extra jar of jam or marmalade would serve to "leave a good taste in the mouths" of the boys and would furnish a very pleasant afterthought of the affair. Her phone is Glendale 619-J.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1917

CO-OPERATING WITH FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

A wheatless day will follow the general plan for a beefless day in all the public dining places of California, if Allan Pollok, who manages 105 dining cars and 21 restaurants for the Southern Pacific railroad, can help bring it about. Pollok pointed out that the Massachusetts federal food administrator has recommended to all hotels, clubs and restaurants to cut out white bread altogether for one week. Pollok has signed for the Southern Pacific company's entire dining service the pledge of the federal food administration, agreeing to carry out to the best of his ability the directions and regulations of the Hoover plan. This was announced by Edward H. Benjamin, chairman of the committee on public dining service of the California federal food commission. Benjamin says that a gratifying and patriotic response has been made by hotel, restaurant and club managers of California to his request that they carry out the Hoover plan for using less wheat bread, beef, mutton and pork, milk, fats and sugar. From north to south, Benjamin said, the restaurateurs have willingly and enthusiastically pledged their allegiance to the war economies. Pollok is only the latest of the important food buyers and sellers to affirm by his signature his adherence to the plan on behalf of the Southern Pacific.

The Hotel Association of Northern California, through James Wood, hotel district chairman for the Rocky Mountain and Pacific states, has declared for beefless Tuesdays. Similar action has been taken along the entire Pacific coast, and some cities, including Los Angeles, have issued proclamations for meatless days.

In Massachusetts hotel men are pushing Tuesday as a second fish day in addition to Friday.

The food administration looks upon the establishment of this beefless day as an encouragingly prophetic forerunner of Food Pledge Week, October 28 to November 4, when the nation's 22,000,000 housewives will be visited personally and asked to make every day a saving day for meat, wheat, fats and sugar.

State Food Administrator Magnus Swanson of Wisconsin recently issued a formal proclamation announcing one meatless and one wheatless day a week for Wisconsin.

"Meatless" is construed to mean the absence of pork, beef, mutton and their products from the bill of fare, whether in homes or public eating places. These are the meats most needed for export to the allies. America has a large supply of fish and poultry, according to official estimates. In many parts of the country a beefless Tuesday has already been in effect for some time.

THE FUTILITY OF HATE

Sydney Smith said that it was his idea of hell to hate somebody.

Hate, malice, envy, hard thoughts of any sort poison first the heart in which they originate. They form a brackish unhealthy pool where all sorts of foul mental conditions generate.

It is only in our loves that we really live.

What we hate is dead to us. The wider the range of our hates the narrower are our lives.

It is a beautiful belief that every kindly act, word, thought or impulse continues in its influence forever, brightening and sweetening the world, and that every evil deed or thought permanently destroys a part of the sum total of human happiness.

Certainly this is the effect upon the life in which the thought originates. Every thought elevates or lowers, purifies or debases.

Love thoughts are wings. Hate thoughts are weights.

Hates are malaria mists in which we blindly grope and miserably rot.

TANK CAR TO BE SHOWN

One of the most attractive features of the seventh annual automobile show of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association, scheduled to be held in the Sunday Tabernacle and three adjoining tents the week beginning November 12, will be a completely armored "tank" car, a duplicate of the steel monsters of destruction which are now being used to advantage by the allies.

No other engines of annihilation have attracted as much attention or speculation as these big mobile forts, with the possible exception of the giant howitzers with which Germany startled the world at the outbreak of the war. The "tanks," according to correspondents, are able to clamber over trenches, crush down buildings and barbed wire entanglements, cross small streams and go wherever their pilots choose to direct them. In addition to the "tank" car, the show committee plans to exhibit armored automobiles and motorcycles.

Magnificent decorative and lighting effects are planned for the show and floors will be laid in the main building and three tents. The show is under the general supervision of J. S. Conwell, president of the Los Angeles City Council, who has so successfully managed the automobile displays there for the last five years.

A naturalist asserts that bees have advanced guards. Possibly. But the rear guard is more feared.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Glendale branch of the British Ambulance Society took place as usual on Monday at 2 o'clock. There was a large attendance, several new helpers being present. The work on hand is to be finished up if possible during the coming week and at the next meeting so that it may be taken to Los Angeles headquarters for the next shipment to London.

A suggestion was made that this society undertake the care of a Canadian prisoner of war in Germany. For the sum of $5 a month, sent to the Red Cross headquarters in London, two prisoners can receive two hamper in a month. A further suggestion was made and adopted that the proceeds of the teas given in Ye Ginger Tavern every Monday afternoon be devoted to this purpose. The tea last Monday was attended by a few of the members only, as the hostess of the day was unexpectedly called away.

Next Monday a special guest of honor will be Miss R. M. Lowe, who has returned to Los Angeles within the last four weeks from England. Miss Lowe is a Red Cross nurse who went from here to a military hospital in Norwich a year ago. She has given several lectures and talks on her experiences in hospital work, and next Monday the Glendale public is invited to come and hear her at Ye Ginger Tavern. She has some very fine photographs to show, and in every way her talk will be an inspiration to all Red Cross workers. There will be no admission charge, but it is hoped that every one will contribute a little to the cause by partaking of the tea served at the modest sum of 15 cents.

If assurance is needed that the hamper furnished by the efforts of this society actually reach their destination, sufficient evidence may be seen in the letters in the hands of the committee. Red Cross acknowledgment cards are signed by the recipients of the hamper in the German prisons and are forwarded to the proper authorities in this country. Miss Cameron of Los Angeles has received the following letter from a returned prisoner of war who has lectured in Canada on his experiences:

"I want to thank you for your kind interest in and your efforts to aid the prisoners of war.

"I also want to assure you that they are very deserving, and anything you may do will be greatly appreciated by them, and I only wish there were more ladies taking up this splendid work.

"The supposition that the prisoners do not get the parcels sent them is wrong, because the delivery of the parcels is under the personal supervision of the American ambassador and also the Red Cross societies of the neutral countries who are in Germany for this particular purpose. Then the absurd report about the Germans standing over and forcing the prisoners to write and say that they get the parcels is also untrue. The fact that there is a monthly exchange of prisoners, who would, on their arrival in England, report any happenings of this kind, prove this to be absolutely absurd.

"As a returned prisoner and one who has suffered the pangs of hunger in a German prison camp, I want to, on behalf of the boys over there, thank you and those who may assist you, from the bottom of my heart for the splendid work you are undertaking, and may your efforts be crowned with success.

"I beg to remain, gratefully yours,
"SERGT. FRED F. WELLS,
"First B. C. Reg., Seventh Bat."

POST AND CORPS MEETING

Friday, October 26, is the day for the open all-day meeting of the N. P. Banks Post and Corps at the G. A. R. Hall. Comrades be on hand at 10 o'clock. A good program is being prepared and a good attendance is hoped for.

A ZEPPELIN RAID

Mrs. E. G. Pfeiffer, 1222 Chestnut street, kindly calls our attention to an article in the London Daily Mail of September 29, describing a Zeppelin raid. The description, which is most vivid and very interesting, is as follows:

"As a moving, thrilling, tremendous demonstration Monday night's raid was by far the most sensational 'show' we have experienced in London. The searchlights were whirling in great, broad sword blades of light; amid the flickers our own questing aeroplanes darted like gnats, trailing lights hither and thither, and finally disappearing in the distant blue. Far away to the southeastward guns were rumbling and growling; the sound of them grew nearer and nearer * * * and then with a mighty roar the nearer batteries leaped to the attack.

"I heard four or five bombs drop into London—the smash of their impact was quite unmistakable, and it occurred in a short interval between the ending of one deafening barrage, or curtain, fire and the beginning of another. All the rest was one magnificent but frightening display of pyrotechnics. The sky streamed shells, and for 20 minutes the whine and the wail of them cut the air like whip lashes—wheeuu, wheeee, wheeu-u-u.

"Out of that red hot sky our grisly visitors were glad enough to turn tail and run for home, leaving only a small toll of dead and injured behind. The bombs were dropped at random—anyhow in the bewildering chaos. In the racket of the night people imagined, and naturally enough, that half of London had been destroyed. But most of the devilry of shattering noise was the strident, determined work of our concentrated defense. It drove the Hun home and upset his plans completely.

"I followed the track of the storm soon after daylight broke. The damage to London was amazingly light. Some 15 people are dead. Four of these invited disaster—they ignored the peril of loitering in doorways which has been emphasized again and again in the Daily Mail and paid for their folly with their lives. The bomb which killed them fell in the middle of the road opposite the main doors of a large hotel. Two of the hotel porters and the stoker, just off duty, were on their way home.

"The warning of the raid had reached the hotel and many of the guests had gathered in a hall downstairs. Half a dozen of them were actually in the doorway outside. A passing constable urged them to get inside. Reluctantly they obeyed him, and the last had only just turned his back on the street when the bomb fell. The three hotel servants, still outside, were killed outright. The door and most of the front windows of the place were destroyed, some of the guests were cut by the flying glass, a waitress was very seriously injured, and the chef was rendered unconscious by shock, though no injuries could be found upon him."

Mother—Little boys must always be nice and clean for school.

"Well, you know, mother, they got a lot o' new advanced ideas since you went to school."—Life.

Maryland avenue.

The social affair to be given by the Glen Eyrie chapter of O. E. S. at the Masonic Temple this evening is a card party. Members and friends are cordially invited. Admission will be 25 antee of a splendid time.

Afternoon Club will meet at the home of the curator, Mrs. Frank N.
Arnold, 309 North Maryland, at 2:30 o'clock on Friday, October 26. Local your overalls and gingham gowns and everybody come. Other entertaining numbers are being prepared for the occasion.

On November 10 a dance for the benefit of the Red Cross will be given at the Masonic Temple by Mrs. E. L.
Bryant and Miss Violet Turner. The Snaby Orchestra, which plays nightly at the Athletic Club in Los Angeles, will furnish the music. Punch will be served. Tickets will be 50 cents a couple. A special effort will be made by the hostesses to make this a very enjoyable affair, and a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. Frank Wilkins and her daughter, Miss Mary, drove down to Long Beach on Wednesday to visit Mrs.
Wilkins' son, Hubert, in his new quarters at the Craig ship building yards, where his company has been transferred from Fort McArthur. His company, formerly No. 6, is now Company 17 of the Coast Artillery. Mrs.
Wilkins had expected to bring her son back with her, but found his visit must be postponed. She reports that most of the boys were busily occupied in selling Liberty bonds.

The Red Cross decorations, which are much needed for the concert to be given at the high school on Monday evening, have been misplaced, and it is requested that whoever may have them in their possession will please return them to headquarters, where some one will be in attendance every afternoon, or phone to the secretary,
Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Glendale
917-J.

give a short talk at the community concert at the high school on Satur-

She was the promoter of the singing at Normal Hill and has done much important work for the cause of community singing. The committee was most fortunate in being able to obtain her for this occasion.

TO RED CROSS MEMBERS IN GLENDALE

The following letter was sent to nearly 1000 persons in Glendale, with the request that replies be sent in by Wednesday last. Less than 50 replies have been received as yet:

"This circular is to ask for your special co-operation. I feel that I can properly impose on your time and good nature, for 'It is for the Red Cross.' As chairman of entertainment it is for me to get the money, and for the moment it seems that we are about broke. So I want your help in several ways.

"1. Will you sell two or more season tickets for our series of six monthly entertainments in Glendale,
the first concert to be held Monday, October 29? The tickets contain six stubs, each entitling the holder to a 50-cent seat at each concert. They sell for $1.50, and should be disposed of before the 25th inst.

"2. Will you donate or make for us some useful, salable article for our Red Cross bazar to be given next month? I will not suggest just what, for you will think of something much better than I.

"3. Finally, and most important of all, will you see or telephone at least one neighbor or friend who is not yet a member of the Red Cross and secure their definite promise of joining today? It is so easy to put things off, you know.

"Before this slips your mind please fill out and return the inclosed card, and the desired tickets will be sent you, the director of the bazar will be told how you propose to help her and the prospective new members will be called upon promptly.

"The job we have to accomplish is big enough and we need some extra help now. May we not depend upon your help at once?

"Sincerely yours,

"HENRY R. HARROWER."
Please help to dispose of these tickets, getting supplies from the Red Cross headquarters or from Dr. Harrower. It is expected to sell at least 300 tickets at $1.50 before the first concert Monday evening next. If you, dear reader, are a live Red Cross worker, buy or sell at least one ticket. If you are not, get a member to join at once. It is an honor to help such a noble and patriotic cause.

A CLEVER FAMILY

The Ralston Entertainers are to appear in a benefit for the Glendale
Intermediate school athletic fund.
Unique features, combined with exceedingly clever acting, will make the entertainment given by the Ralstons Friday afternoon and evening at the high school particularly attractive.
The Ralston family comprises father, mother and five children, each particularly gifted. They will give scenes from some of Shakespeare's plays, as well as a burlesque playlet.
The program will be as follows:

1. Overture.
2. Balcony Scene from "Romeo and Juliet."
3. Friar Lawrence Scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Friar and Romeo.
4. Orchestra.
5. Friar Lawrence and Juliet.
6. Glee Club.
7. Prison Scene from "King John."
8. Glee Club.
9. "Against His Will."
10. Orchestra.

Admission, 10 and 15 cents.

REDUCE EGG LOSSES

If farmers would realize that the annual value of the country's egg crop is equal to the average value of its annual wheat crop—approximately $600,000,000—and that nearly 8 per cent of the eggs marketed are lost through spoilage or breakage, the industry undoubtedly would be put on a more businesslike basis, says a farmers' bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture, the Community Egg Circle, recently reprinted. Improper handling between the farm and the market, the bulletin declares, is responsible for a large part of the loss. This loss, it is suggested, could be greatly decreased if farmers would co-operate more generally and market their eggs through community egg circles. These organizations take care of the frequent collection and the proper packing and marketing of the eggs of members, establish standards, encourage the raising of better breeds of poultry, the use of improved methods and the production of infertile eggs.

The bulletin tells farmers how to go about the formation of a commu-

CONSERVATION ARMY

A meeting of the County Council of Defense was called Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Hotel Alexandria to hear talks by Mr. Longmair, general manager for Southern California, and Mr. Andrews, a personal representative of Herbert Hoover of Washington, D. C. The drive for signing of food pledges will start Monday, October 23, and last one week. These pledges are as follows:

"To the Food Administrator—I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation, and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the food administrator in my home, in so far as my circumstances permit."

There are no fees or dues to be paid. The food administration wishes to have as members all of those actually handling food in the home. Any one may have the home card of instruction, but only those signing pledges are entitled to membership window card, which will be delivered upon receipt of the signed pledge.

Special attention was called to the last clause, "In so far as my circumstances will permit." This means to use our God-given common sense in our household management.

Mrs. William Ramsay, of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and Miss Eula Richardson, of the Glendale conservation committee, and Mrs. W. H. Bullis of Tropic, representing this district, were impressed very forcibly with the necessity of this work. Mr. Andrews showed the importance of organization, sacrifice and concentration if this movement is to be successful.

In contrast to the "legion of death" formed by the women of Russia who cut off their hair and go into the trenches to win the war, the army of war mothers, war sisters and war sweethearts who sign these food pledges are termed the Legion of Life, for they cut off waste and go into the kitchen to win the war.

For the last 25 years writers have been bringing out the thought that another war would be terminated not by armies, but by famine. Germany is not starving, but there is a world shortage of food necessities for the allies, and America must make up this shortage by saving the waste and substituting local and perishable food stuffs for those which are armies and allies demand. The Liberty loan is first, but the government can not buy food if there is none. We must save wisely. Mr. Andrews further said that the food administration believes this is a democracy. "Every member should be willing, anxious and glad to make sacrifices. What is the use of fighting for democracy if it is not worth working for? I can't conceive of anybody refusing to sign a pledge card if it is explained to them in the right way."

REPORT OF AMBULANCE PILLOW DEPARTMENT

Twenty-eight pillows made since the last report. The Pacific avenue school children started cutting on Wednesday, October 24, with a large and ambitious group. This makes three schools which are now helping the Red Cross in this way after school hours.

The cutting at Pacific avenue is done under the management of Mrs. Von Oven, assisted by Miss Mason and Mrs. Sawyer, who each give their time one evening a week.

Ralph Day, one of our Columbus avenue boys, has made himself responsible for the sweeping of both halls occupied by the Red Cross. This saves the expense of a janitor in money of about 25 cents an evening. He is always there, too.

Following is a list of the children who have helped at the schools and at 318 South Brand for the last two weeks, the people helping on newspaper day not included:

A DARK SECRET

"I wonder whether daughter loves that young man or not? She's got us all guessing."

"Seems to be even keeping him in the dark," suggested dad, who had noticed that the gas in the parlor was turned very low.

"Do you regard our friend as a statesman?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "He's the sort of a man that gets credit for being a statesman when he's only a public expert."

MAIL YOUR PACKAGES EARLY

Have you a friend in the trenches? Are you planning to send Christmas cheer to the boys in France? Is it your ambition to have your name among the donors who will bring gladness into the heart of some lonesome Sammy on Christmas morning? Then learn right now that all Christmas packages which are destined to American soldiers abroad must be mailed not later than November 15. Arrangements have been made for the prompt delivery of all packages to the soldiers on Christmas morning, but these plans can not be carried out unless the government receives the hearty co-operation of the public. Observe the following directions for mailing and avoid all delay:

1. Mail to reach the soldiers in France by Christmas morning must be posted not later than November 15.
2. Every package must bear conspicuously the words "Christmas mail," the complete address of the person for whom it is intended, and in the upper left hand corner the name and address of the sender.
3. Every parcel must be so packed and wrapped as to admit of easy inspection by the postmaster. No parcel will be dispatched to France which has not the postmaster's certificate that it contains no prohibited articles.

The rate of postage on parcels to members of the American expeditionary forces in France is 12 cents a pound from any place within the United States.

WHAT WE'LL GET OUT OF IT

Every traitor and every near-traitor in the United States is inquiring:

"What are we going to get out of this war?"

Well, among other things, we are going to get a better grade of patriotism than we have been having.

We are going to put an end to building up foreign colonies in the United States as breeding places of treason.

We are going to quit making the foreigner believe he is the only creature on earth worth while.

We are going to love every foreigner who really becomes an American, and all others we are going to ship back home.

We are going to stop hiring men in banks and public offices simply because they speak foreign languages. In this way we expect to encourage the speaking of the American language.

We are going to have a consultation with the I. W. W.'s to ascertain whether or not they have a real grievance or any just cause for their treasonable mouthings and threats. If they have any just cause, we are going to remove it; then we are going to shut their mouths for good and all.

We are not going to let men come into the United States without some kind of a bond that they are not going to engage in the burning of property or in carrying on secret work on behalf of the country they came from.

Out of this war we are going to get a new United States. We are going to hate nobody, but we are going to be prepared to fight whenever it is necessary.

We are going to have the freest country in the world, but we are not going to allow any traitorous high-brows to set their own standards of freedom by which to convert freedom into treason.

There are a good many other things "we are going to get out of this war." When the soldier boys come home we are going to have two millions of patriots, who, having fought for the flag, will make good citizens and thorough patriots—civilian policemen against treason and public treachery.

The people of the United States are going to get more out of this war than will be returned to any other country in the world.

HOW TO KILL ANY ORGANIZATION

1. Don't come to meetings.
2. If you do, come late.
3. If it is too wet, too dry, too hot, too cold, stay at home.
4. When you do come, be sure to find fault.
5. Don't do anything to help.
6. Don't take any part in meetings.
7. Try not to encourage the officers. They don't need it.
8. Don't pay your dues.
9. If you know of a fellow townsman who does not belong, use your influence to keep him from joining.
10. Consider that the organization is conducted for your benefit only.
11. If everything is running smoothly, start something.

UNSHAKABLE EVIDENCE

It was the rush hour in one of those quick lunch places where you help yourself and use the arm of your chair as a table. A man called for a piece of pie, and chose a chair; then, remembering that he wanted some coffee, he dashed over to the service counter. When he returned with his coffee his chair was occupied by another hurry-up diner.

"How do you know it is your chair?" demanded the occupant, in a surly tone.

"Because I can prove it," stated the first man.

"How can you prove it?" asked the occupant.

"By your trousers," was the reply.

"You are sitting on my pie."
